

LOVE YOUR PET TO THEIR VERY CORE? SO DO PARASITES.

Parasites love to feed off your pet, causing irritation and disease. Plus, some can affect your family too. That's why regular treatment with an appropriate product is so important.

1

HATEFUL TRAIT

Tapeworm segments can come out in your pet's behind, irritating them and revolting you.

TROUBLESOME TAPEWORMS

infect your pet when they eat an intermediate host, such as rats or mice, or fleas while grooming, which makes them a particular risk to cats because of their hunting, grooming and roaming behaviours.

2

HATEFUL TRAIT

500 hookworms can remove half 2Kg /4lbs of a puppy's blood volume in a day, so they can inflict enormous damage.

HORRIBLE HOOKWORMS

are a type of small intestinal roundworm that can cause damage to the lining of the intestine where they attach to the surface, which may result in weight loss, bleeding and anaemia.

WEARISOME WHIPWORMS

look like tiny pieces of thread, though they cannot be commonly seen with the unaided eye.

4

HATEFUL TRAIT

Whipworm infection results in watery, bloody diarrhea, weight loss, and general debilitation. Of all the intestinal parasites found in dogs, whipworms cause the most disease.

ROTTEN ROUNDWORMS

feed on your pet's blood or food they may have eaten and are the most common internal parasite.

3

HATEFUL TRAIT

Roundworms can cause ill health and even blindness in people, with children especially at risk.

WAR ON WORMS

Get your vet to check your dog or cat for all kinds of worms at least once a year (two to four times for puppies & kittens).

- Keep your pet flea-free.
- Practice the four Ps: Pick up (and throw away) Pet Poop Promptly. Clear your yard at least weekly and scoop up after your dog when you go for a walk.
- Wash your hands often, including after you pet animals and especially after picking up their waste.
- Use HomeoPet HOST NO MORE & FELINE HOST NO MORE which may aid in the recovery from worm infestation and is ideal for the removal of worms where a drug-free approach is favored.

Ask your vet about the best way to treat your pet against parasites, for their health and that of your family.

It's important to note that in debilitated animals, or those with large worm burdens where the body is unable to raise an immune response, Host No More should be combined with conventional or herbal wormers. If in doubt consult your veterinarian, or feel free to contact our customer care line.
